Lookin' for something?

The Yellow Pages will tell you who sells what you want.

It won't work...by itself

It takes a lot more than a telephone to give you telephone service. Before a telephone will work, it must be linked by its own pair of wires to complex equipment in a central office.

And central office equipment is "full up," in many cities. The large majority of the 230,000 people waiting for telephone service in the Southwest are waiting because there's no "room" in the equipment in the local central office to connect a telephone for them.

New equipment is complicated and takes a long time to make. Some is now being made. But it looks as if it will be some time before we shall have enough to take care of all who want telephones. Thanks for your patience.
